

FIRST BLOOD FOR BRITISH

Red Coats Win a Victory from the Boers North of the Tugela,

FIGHT FOR A KOPJE

Gen. Warren Drives the Boers from Their Position and is Holding it.

RUMOR THAT LADYSMITH IS RELIEVED; WARREN KILLED

It is Believed That Buller and Joubert Are Waging Battle for the Possession of Ladysmith Today—English Public on the Qui Vive for News of the Struggle—White Expected to Act With Buller—Adelbert Hay Has Arrived at Cape Town—Boers May Not Receive Him.

London, Jan. 19.—[Special Cablegram]—The first skirmish between the British and Boers preliminary to the impending struggle north of the Tugela river is reported today. It resulted in a victory for the British. Gen. Buller reports as follows:

"Spearmen's Camp, Jan. 18.—The following was received from Gen. Warren, dated yesterday evening: 'Dundonalds mounted troop engaged the Boers this afternoon west of Acton Homes. I sent a detachment of the First Dragoons at 7 p. m. to reinforce Dundonald, who after the fighting occupied the Kopje which he now holds. The Boers lost Field Cornet Heilbrunn with twenty others killed and wounded and fifteen captured. Our loss was two privates killed and Lieut. Shaw and one private severely wounded.'"

News From Buller Is Good.

The news from Gen. Buller continues to be highly satisfactory in character to England. His whole force should be in position to give battle today. The public is on the qui vive for news of the coming struggle.

Gen. Buller's careful preparation for an attack and the success attending his movements so far have raised high hopes despite his previous reverse.

Any news of the failure of his second attempt will not be credited until the proof is overwhelming.

The friends of Gen. White count on him to take a prominent part in the battle between Buller and Joubert.

According to Gen. Buller's dispatch the Dundonald mounted force in the neighborhood of Acton Home, which shows that Gen. Warren is maneuvering far to the westward, should draw off considerable force from the Boers.

According to dispatches from Spearmen's farm the British sent up war balloons and have reconnoitered the Boer entrenchments which had hitherto been concealed.

Adelbert Hay at Cape Town.

A telegram announces the arrival at Cape Town of Adelbert Hay, the newly appointed American consul to Pretoria. The dispatch says it is believed the Boers will not receive Hay because of his ten days' stay in London before leaving for South Africa.

Rumor That Warren Was Killed

London, Jan. 19.—[Special Cablegram]—A stock exchange rumor of unknown origin, says that Ladysmith was relieved after eighteen hours of fighting, in which General Warren was killed. The rumor had no appreciable effect on stocks. All efforts to run down the source of the reports were futile.

Activity at Modder River

Modder River, Jan. 19.—[Special Cablegram]—The naval guns continue to throw Lydite shells into the Boer positions. Gen. Methuen enjoys robust health.

SHELLED THE BOER TRENCHES

Opening Incidents of the Battle Raging Around Ladysmith

Spearmen's Camp, Thursday night, Jan. 18.—[Special Cablegram]—The British shelled the Boer trenches all day today. Several small Boer parties were discovered by the British and near Ladysmith a large force of the enemy was seen moving toward the northwestern British position.

Gen. Warren's troops on the left remain in possession of the two hills behind Spionkop. Gen. Lyttleton's force made a demonstration under cover of heavy artillery fire in the direction of Draakfontein Kopjes, just north of the British position. He met with no opposition, the Boers refusing to return the British fire.

Canada Would Aid Britain.

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 19.—It is learned that, very quietly but thoroughly, the militia department has arranged matters so that Canadians, should the British government accept the proposal, will garrison the forts at Halifax and Esquimaux, and also relieve the British regulars in Bermuda and the West Indies.

Boers Need No More Soldiers.

Vienna, Jan. 19.—The Neues Tagblatt publishes a communication from the Transvaal embassy at Brussels which states that the embassy has at no time sought to enlist officers or other volunteers for the South African war, and that although hundreds of such applications are received daily, the embassy has invariably denied all requests. The Boers need money for caring for their wounded and for the families of those who have fallen, but soldiers are not needed at present.

DEPOSITORS WANT FINAL SETTLEMENT

Are Disgusted with Action of Interested Lawyers in the Bank of Edgerton Case.

The Bank of Edgerton case, which has several times been aired in the circuit court of Rock county, now promises to be settled and without the aid of attorneys.

The interested depositors are sick and tired of being dragged into court without having made any progress one way or the other.

It is reported that the committee representing the depositors in the Bank of Edgerton have asked L. H. Towne, who is receiver, to act as mediator to see if a settlement of the bank case could be brought about. The committee went to Madison with Mr. Towne last week to consult with the depositors' attorneys. Mr. Towne has asked the stockholders and directors to make a proposition. The directors held a meeting Wednesday, and it is understood that an offer will probably be made in pursuance of that request.

Rubber heels for all shoes and boots are now worn by women. The heel is a ready-made affair, about half an inch in thickness, and its advocates say that its use lessens the jar of walking, especially upon city pavements, to a degree that very materially affects the number of headaches to which many women are subjected.

THE MAYOR AND ALDERMEN OF MILWAUKEE APPEAL.

Alternative Writ of Prohibition Issued in the Case of Milwaukee City Officials Found Guilty of Contempt—Republican State Convention About March 1—State Grain Men.

Milwaukee, Jan. 19.—The supreme court has taken a hand in the street railway ordinance fight. Application was made to the supreme court yesterday afternoon at Madison for an alternative writ prohibiting Judge Ludwig from sentencing Mayor Rose and the members of the common council for contempt.

The writ was issued in chambers and was made returnable Feb. 2. It prohibits Judge Ludwig from proceeding further in the matter and requires him to appear before the court on the date mentioned and show cause why the writ should not be made permanent.

The application for the writ was based on the ground that the superior court had not jurisdiction over the council, which was sitting as a legislative body. This was the ground taken

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—Henry K. Carroll, special commissioner for the United States to Porto Rico, under appointment by the president to investigate the civil, industrial, financial and social conditions of the island, has made his report.

The report states that Porto Rico has an area estimated from 3,150 to 3,800 square miles. The climate is tropical but not torrid. The thermometer rarely rises to 100 degrees, the highest monthly average on record in nine years in San Juan being 86 degrees. The mountains are generally covered with verdure, and even the peaks are gardens of the husbandman. The death rate is moderate. Yellow fever is now indigenous, but smallpox sometimes becomes epidemic.

ASTOUNDS THE PHYSICIANS

Man Lives Sixty Hours After Being Shot Through the Heart

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 19.—Charles F. Seeberger, an electrician of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was shot Saturday night by Jerome Swartley, a conductor on the same road, at Brunswick, Md., and died Tuesday at the county hospital in this city. A post mortem examination revealed the fact that Seeberger lived sixty hours with a bullet-hole through the center of his heart. This is regarded by the physicians who attended the man at the hospital as the most marvelous occurrence. The wound, the physicians say, was such that instantaneous death should have resulted.

THEY HOPE TO END THE SOLID SOUTH

PLAN TO BREAK IT WITH STANARD ON TICKET.

Republicans Say They Can Win Missouri—Figures Show That the State is Passing From Democratic Control—Gen. Bragg Mentioned For Mitchell's Soldiers' Home Place.

Washington, Jan. 19.—To carry Missouri for the republican ticket this year is a plan now on foot among leading supporters of the president. Missouri is the fifth state in the union, and has heretofore been counted politically as a part of the solid south. Well-known republicans, among them Henry C. Payne of Milwaukee and Richard Kerens of St. Louis, believe the state can be carried for McKinley in this year's contest, and they propose to prepare the way for breaking up the solidity of the south by nominating for vice president former Lieutenant Governor Stanard of Missouri. Mr. Stanard is a well known business man, former president of the St. Louis board of trade and a popular and representative citizen.

The men who are pushing this plan say Missouri could have been carried for McKinley on the money issue in 1896 if a proper effort had been made. As it was, with the state almost wholly neglected by the national committee, the democrats had a majority of no less than 60,000 in a total vote of nearly 700,000.

In 1898 the democratic majority of state officers were only 30,000. From Missouri comes the same story we hear from every southern or border state, that the old-line democrats are tired of free silver, of Bryan, of anti-expansion, and there is a probability that, with the negro question eliminated, several of these states could be made republican.

Bragg Would Accept It

There is discussion among the members of the Wisconsin congressional delegation about the possible selection of Gen. Edward S. Bragg to succeed former Senator John L. Mitchell as member of the board of Managers of the National Soldiers' homes. This proposition grows out of reports which have reached here from the state that Senator Mitchell has tendered his resignation as member of the board, due to his purpose to be absent for two years in Europe. Gen. Bragg, who is in the city, said he did not know whether Senator Mitchell has resigned, but if so and the delegation was disposed to favor him for the place and if he were chosen he would accept it.

Quay Will Be Seated

Mr. Quay of Pennsylvania is now practically assured of a seat in the senate on the appointment of his henchman, Governor Stone. That is to say, Mr. Quay will be seated unless he loses some votes which he now has a right to count upon. The chances are that instead of growing weaker he will gain in strength. The simple truth is that Mr. Quay's canvass is being carefully and skillfully managed. Both republicans and democrats are at work for him.

SMALLPOX IS EPIDEMIC

Alarming Spread of the Disease in State of Indiana—Fourteen Counties Affected.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—The state board of health today received word that smallpox is epidemic in Clay county and neighboring counties, and is increasing every hour.

The disease has gained such headway at Lesterville that the towns near are demanding quarantine regulations and Scottsburg has sent out armed guards and is holding all the roads. Fugitives from the stricken districts are turned back under pain of death.

The condition at Clay City is alarming, the cases now numbering over 500. Experts have been sent from here to Clay county and the government has notified the state board of health that all mail from the fourteen counties will be disinfected.

Gen. Kobbe Has Been Appointed Governor of Albany Province—Principal Towns in Cavite and Batanges Provinces Occupied by Americans—Spanish Prisoners Arrive at Madrid Say That Filipinos Must Soon Yield—Open Door in Philippines.

Beilin, Jan. 19.—[Special Cablegram]—Regarding the note alleged to have been addressed to the United States by the powers, in regard to the open door in the Philippines, it is officially declared that Germany is perfectly satisfied to see the Philippines incorporated into the United States. Germany's only wish is for well ordered conditions in the islands, thus permitting revival of commerce. German interests at Manila, it is well known, are extensive and cannot flourish until the islands are brought under a strong government. Germany much prefers United States authority to a native republic.

GEN. MACARTHUR STRIKES HARD

He Has Numerous Skirmishes With the Filipinos Recently

Washington, Jan. 19.—[Special Telegram]—Two important dispatches were received from Gen. Otis today. One gave the details of Gen. MacArthur's movements. Gen. Otis says that MacArthur has had numerous skirmishes recently without any casualties, and has inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. He took over one hundred prisoners, including the wife of Gen. Mescardo, liberated several Spanish prisoners, captured many rifles and much ammunition, killed seventeen rebels and wounded five.

The other dispatch tells of several skirmishes by Bates' and Young's forces in which the enemy suffered severely in losses of men and property. The American casualties were few.

In Panay Gen. Hughes' forces struck a large force of the enemy crossing the Antique river, killing many. The entire population of the several towns along the line of march fled to the mountains.

SAY REBELS MUST SOON YIELD

Repatriated Spaniards Declare They Are at End of Their Resources.

Madrid, Jan. 19.—The released Spanish prisoners who have arrived in Barcelona from the Philippines say that the ultimate victory of the Americans in Luzon is assured. The Filipinos, they declare, are at the end of their resources, the fighting men are insufficiently nourished and the natives are hopelessly divided by factional differences.

Dispatches received here from Hongkong speak of the cruelty of the American soldiers, who are said to shoot down native women and children ruthlessly.

The Madrid Filipino junta asserts that the Filipinos are confident that guerrilla warfare will be carried on against the Americans for years.

Open Door in Philippines.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—Referring to a Washington dispatch concerning the "open door" in the Philippines, United States Ambassador White said in all discussions with Count von Buelow regarding the "open door" in the east, it had been assumed that such a policy would be reciprocated in the Philippines. No formal request, however, for a promise had been made.

APPROPOS OF WEDDINGS.

An Effort to Revive the Bridal Wreath of Orange Flowers.

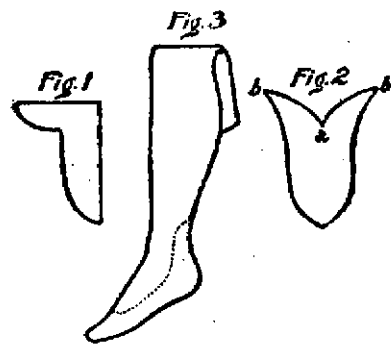

There are already many fashionable weddings on the tapis. Admirers of the good old customs are making a bid to revive the wearing of the bridal wreath, immortalized in song and story. A wreath of orange flowers or myrtle is assuredly a fitting and picturesque crowning for a fair face, but it has a rural significance that will scarcely impress the city bred woman, even on her bridal morn or eve. It is even to be feared that the bridal veil will ere long succumb to fashion's changes. The veil is a relic of the "care cloth" which our Saxon forefathers were wont to hold over the bride's head to hide her blushes, a custom that began to part with its significance when the veil was thrown back and arranged so that it falls from the head down over the skirt's train.

The bridal veil is usually fastened to the coiffure with a jeweled clasp or held in place by a silver or gold comb studded with precious stones, and these trinkets have eclipsed the typical and fragrant orange blossoms, but now and then a prospective bride is strongly imbued with sentiment, and she it is who tucks a tiny cluster of the accredited blossoms into the lace at her throat or hides it under her waistband as if ashamed of the lingering sentiment, says Table Talk apropos of weddings and adds:

The manner of using artificial flowers on lace and net fabrics for evening toilets is distinctly novel. A corsage of pale peach chiffon has Russian violets and their foliage applied over it. The stitches are so minute as to be invisible, and the violets look as if dropped on the filmy net by a careless hand. The sleeves of the bodice are of green chiffon. In similar manner a white mousseline de sole gown, sent over by a famous French modiste, has rich pink silk and velvet petaloid roses applied in graceful spraylike designs over skirt and bodice. A clever brush finishes the shadings of rose petals and tender green foliage, so that one can barely detect where the applique work ends and the painting begins.

Instead of Darning.

When the heels and soles are so much worn as to require a great deal of darning, it is much more satisfactory to refect the stockings than to continue mending. The method here given is one which The Ladies' World recommends as very useful, as the seams do not hurt the tenderest foot, and the fit is excellent. It also takes less time to repair a stocking in this manner than to darn or patch it.

REFOOTING STOCKINGS.

Cut from pasteboard or stiff paper the patterns marked Fig. 1 and Fig. 2. Fold the worn stocking through the middle of the heel and by pattern Fig. 1 cut it off far enough to avoid all thin places. The dotted line in Fig. 3 shows the manner of cutting the stocking down.

Now cut by pattern Fig. 2 new soles from some suitable material—woven is best, as it is so much more elastic. Sew up the seam from a to b and sew the piece into the stocking.

The best parts of old underwear may be used for these soles. Those cut from new webbing are, of course, better.

Useful One Fingered Gloves.

Gloves have long been made in very great variety, but a novel thing in this line is a one fingered glove, or perhaps it might be called a one fingered mitten, in which the thumb and first finger are provided for precisely as they would be in any glove, with a covering for each, while the other three fingers are included in a mittenlike part. Mittens are warmer, but a driver must wear gloves or have at least one finger free to enable him to handle the reins. One fingered gloves are bought also by shipping clerks and bookkeepers and others around markets and other places. Where more or less of the business must be attended to outdoors, a man can't very well handle a pencil with mittens on his hands, but he can swing one all right in one fingered glove. Gloves of this sort are made of cat skin or of sheepskin and wood lined like any other glove, says the New York Sun.

Household Brevities.

It is a great thing to know how to accept any gift gracefully.

A fashionable fad now is the collection of old brasses and articles of burnished copper. The exquisite color of old copper is said to be due to the heat to which it has been subjected, during long periods of use as domestic utensils.

For brittle finger nails melt two drops of pure white wax and add to it a few drops of almond oil; then mix in the beaten yolk of an egg until a stiff paste is formed. Rub the nails with this mixture every night at bedtime.

White and gold china is again popular, but later is the introduction of a green ground on the border, which as a foil for the gold band is most fascinating.

Let the business and the frets of a day be what they may, have an hour when they may be as completely dropped from the conversation as if strangers were present. This is the best kind of relaxation.

BABY SACK.

A Dainty Little Crocheted Affair in Pink and White.

Crocheted Sack.—Materials: One skein of white saxony, two skeins of white and one of pink split zephyr and a bone hook. Make the yoke and cuffs of the saxony. Begin at the neck with a ch of 85 st. The yoke and cuffs are made in h d crochets by winding thread round the hook, take up a st in ch, then draw thread through the 3 st on hook and widen by placing two of these double crochets in the same stitch.

First row—21 h d (st will after this stand for half double), widen, 21 st, widen, 21 st, widen, 21 st, turn.

Second row—21 st, widen, 2 st, widen, 18 st, widen, 18 st, widen, 2 st, widen, 20 st, widen, turn.

Work back and forth for 14 rows, widening twice on each shoulder and once in middle of back in every row. Always work 21 st before first widening and increase the number of st between widenings on the shoulders in each row thus: In third row 5 between, fourth 6, fifth 8, sixth 10, seventh 12, eight, 15, ninth 16, tenth 19, eleventh 21, twelfth 22, thirteenth 25, fourteenth 29 and in middle of back widen every time in same stitch.

The body of the sack and sleeves are made in shells of 2 d c, 2 ch, 2 d c in a place. Begin at the front corner of yoke and make 10 shells, one in every other st on yoke, turn and make 2 more rows, a shell in a shell, break yarn. Leave 30 st for the sleeve and work 3 rows of shells, 25 in a row, for the back. Leave 30 st for other sleeve and make 3 rows of 10 shells each for other side of front.

From the front edge work back and forth the whole width of the sack, placing a shell in a shell until you have 20 more rows.

For the sleeve take up 21 shells, 15 in the yoke sts and 6 in the shells of the sack, and make 17 rows for each sleeve. For the wrist make 30 h d in lower edge and work back and forth for 10 rows, then crochet the edges together.

For the caplets on the shoulders take up 15 shells at the top of each sleeve and work 4 rows.

All around the sack, the edges of sleeves and the caplets work shells of 9 tr c fastened with a c. Place a shell in every other shell of the sack. Around the shells work a ch with the pink yarn. Make a twisted cord with the pink and white run through the neck with a small ball on each end.

Lamps in Other Lands.

In America we have not even yet gone into the meanings and the strict uses of lamps. French lamps, to show how they feel about them over there, do not wear their shades by day at all. Globes supply their places—the fatigue uniform of the lamp when off duty. One never sees a lamp shade in Paris, nor anywhere in France for that matter, in the daytime. English lamps, to go further, do not appear at all in the hours when their services are not required. Candles and lamps are brought in as they are wanted and kept in retirement somewhere until that time. One may argue the impracticability of such housekeeping in any but roomy mansions, where the lamps can be accommodated with an apartment, but it is always managed somehow in English establishments, however unpretentious.—House Beautiful.

Cocoanut Loaf Cake.

Half a pound of butter, a pound of sugar, five eggs, half a teaspoonful of vanilla, a grated cocoanut, a cup of milk, using half cocoanut milk if it is sweet, a pound of flour and three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Cream the butter, add the sugar, yolks of eggs, well beaten, then the flavoring, next the grated nut, milk and flour alternately, adding the baking powder to the last half cup of flour and lastly the stiffly beaten whites. Bake in a loaf or in oblong sheets about an inch thick. This cake is better after it is a day old, says Good Housekeeping.

QUEER FOSSIL

Jaw of a Huge Unclassified Animal Found in New Mexico.

Santa Fe New Mexican: The fossil remains of a strange prehistoric animal were discovered recently at Postmaster Nushbaum's ranch, at Tesuque. Alphonso Dockweiler, who has charge of digging a ditch through a ridge on the ranch, picked up a piece of petrified bone the shape of a large tongue, but with a row of twelve teeth along what seemed to be the tip of the tongue. He dug a little further and found the remainder of what seemed to be the jaw of an animal that was part ichthyosaurus and part plesiosaurus, with some of the characteristics of the pterodactyl, perhaps. The jaw consisted of about twenty layers of bone in the shape of a tongue, and each layer was armed with a dozen teeth, which showed that the animal was herbivorous and not carnivorous. These twenty layers were evidently the upper jaw of the animal. Mr. Dockweiler expects to find the lower jaw and perhaps all of the remains of the strange animal. As much as he has found he will bring to this city and from here ship it to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. Two layers of the jaw were brought to the city by J. C. Schumann and shown to friends, who were all puzzled by their unusual shape. It is well known that the surroundings of Santa Fe abound with submarine fossil remains, which seem to prove that in long-gone-by ages the site of the city was covered by a sea. Only half a mile up the arroyo and canyon that branch off Palace avenue, near the old brewery, pretty petrified seashells are to be found. At many other places there are unmistakable signs of the erosion of the waves and footprints of gigantic prehistoric amphibians, who made their home both in the water and on the land in the days when the highest peaks of the Rocky Mountain range were only islands in a vast ocean.

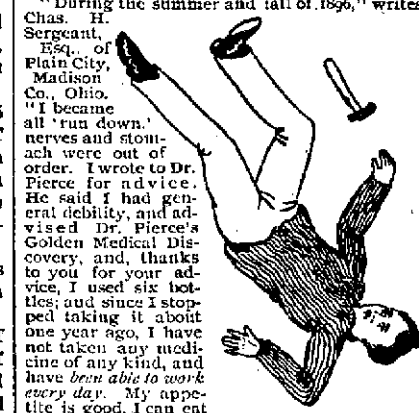

A Great Idea.

Little Boy (pointing to window of India rubber shop)—What are those? Maamma—Those are diving suits, made all of India rubber so that the diver won't get wet.

Little Boy—I wish I had one. Maamma—What for, my dear? Little Boy—To wear when you wash me.—Chicago News.

When a man falls headlong from a roof, we think only of his hazardous character of his employment. It does not occur to us that thousands of men at sea or on land are hourly climbing to dizzy heights without a fear and without a fall, and that the real danger is not in the weakening of the nerves and giving way of the muscles. That danger is just as great to the man on the sidewalk or in the office as to the man on the roof. When the stomach and the organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased the blood becomes impoverished, and nerves and muscles grow weak for lack of nutrition. More fatal diseases probably begin with "weak stomach" than with any other cause. The first symptom of disordered stomach calls for prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, it is a vegetable medicine, absolutely non-alcoholic and non-narcotic, and is unequalled for the strength it gives to blood, nerves and muscles.

"During the summer and fall of 1896," writes Chas. H. Sergeant, Esq., of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio, "I became all run down, nerves and stomach were out of order. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. He said I had a general debility, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and, thanks to you for your advice, I used six bottles and since I stopped taking it I feel about one year ago. I have not taken any medicine of any kind, and have been able to work every day. My appetite is good, I can eat three square meals a day, and I do not feel that miserable burning in the stomach after eating. I think I am now well."

TO STOP LYNCHING.

Governor Longino, of Mississippi, has taken a decided stand against lynch law, and offers suggestions of value. He recommends the enactment of a law giving the family of any person who is lynched, legal recourse against the county, and providing for the recovery of damages through the proper courts. He further recommends that in any case where a prisoner is taken from the sheriff by a mob, the sheriff's office be declared vacant.

These suggestions would appear to be sound. If the county in which the lynchings occurred was made to pay a few $5,000 damage verdicts, the taxpayers might become more careful in the promiscuous use of ropes and six-shooters.

The plan of holding the peace officers responsible for prisoners in their custody also has merit. In many cases, doubtless, the sheriff has been willing to have his prisoner elevated, and made but slight resistance. If he understood, however, that his official head would go into the basket with the first lynching, he would be apt to reason with the mob, and exhaust all his resources, before he would surrender his prisoner.

The southern lynchings have long been a dark spot on the snowy page of history, and any move to put a stop to such lawlessness, is a step in the right direction. Governor Longino is to be commended for the stand he has taken, and good citizens generally will lend him their support.

Congressman Sibley of Pennsylvania, is a leading democrat, but he refuses to take part in the assaults upon Secretary Gage. In replying to these charges as voiced by a democratic colleague, Mr. Sibley said: "If the democratic party is to live it must have a policy; it must do something besides carp and fault-finding. If it will adopt a policy I will keep step with it, but if it invites me to a banquet of carping and fault-finding it will have to excuse me."

Constant Reader—It is perhaps natural that you should make the mistake you have made, but the "bowling league," which meets at Milwaukee is composed of players of the game of nine pins. Therefore it is evident that the meeting was not called for the purpose you speak of, and no prohibitionist need feel shocked.

Madison saloons are allowed to keep open until midnight, and the charge has been made that they were disregarding the ordinance. Janesville saloons are supposed to close at 11 o'clock p. m., and what is more the law is generally observed. This is the difference between Janesville and Madison.

The special dispatches saying that the special committee had decided to bar Congressman Roberts, published in yesterday's papers, had a familiar sound to Janesville people, as the Scripps-McRae Press Association, though The Gazette, gave them this information over a week ago.

General Joseph Wheeler is soon to return to the United States and it is said that he will be retired for age with the rank of brigadier general. General Wheeler has rendered signal service and should receive a suitable reward.

Merchants should be liberal in the matter of donations for the midwinter fair. The annual show has taken the place of the old time county fair, and is an event that naturally interests all Rock county people.

In one instance, at least, Chicago has been successful in compelling St. Louis to take water.

Francis P. Owings, a Chicago man who recently applied to the court to be discharged from his debts, swore that he owed $5,564,917, and only had $5,000 in accounts due, to pay with. Col. Owings would appear to have been well named.

Senator Scott of West Virginia, suggests the names of two Wisconsin men for vice presidential honors—Senator John C. Spooner and Henry C. Payne.

The annual mid-winter fair works much good for Janesville, and everyone should put their shoulders to the wheel and push.

The popular "Kentucky pocket pistol," these days, is corked with a half ounce lead slug.

BUCKNER SAYS IT IS A DISGRACE

Partisanship Has Run Riot in Kentucky—Likely That Goebel Will Be Seated.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Gen. Simon B. Buckner, of Kentucky, running mate with John M. Palmer on the gold democratic ticket of 1896, was a guest at the Palmer House yesterday. He declared himself out of politics except for his interest as a citizen. As a citizen, Gen. Buckner sat in his room, pulling stultically at his hand-made, hickory-stemmed cob-pipe, and discoursed on Kentucky and national politics as follows:

"The results attending and following the recent election in Kentucky are a disgrace not only to my state but to the country at large. At present it is merely a case of partisanship run riot and for this reason I believe the legislature will seat Goebel. On a fair count he was defeated 50,000 votes. The democratic party in Kentucky is in a deplorable condition.

"McKinley will be renominated and reelected by a larger majority than he had before. Bryan is running around the country looking for an issue with which he can get votes. The democrats have no future till Bryan is defeated again. Then it is likely that the conservative Jeffersonian democrats will come to the front in support of the original democratic principles. There are principles enough for the democratic party to espouse: Free trade, local self government, a sound money basis and the recognition of the full right of the citizen.

"Of the so-called issues which the Bryan democrats are harping on at present, free silver is dead, trusts are falling by their own weight and competition, and 'anti imperialism' is ridiculous. The people are not afraid of trusts."

WHAT WAR HAS COST.

Calculated That 1,200,000,000 Men Have Been Sacrificed in Battle.

Beginning with the Trojan war, which is usually regarded as the first chapter in European and Asiatic history, it is calculated that war has claimed 40,000,000 of men every century. In Europe alone the loss of lives every 100 years since the date of that war has been between 18,000,000 and 20,000,000. Three thousand years have elapsed since that opening chapter of history was enrolled, so that during those thirty centuries the almost inconceivable number of 1,200,000,000 men, women and children have been sacrificed to settle disputes concerning some few miles of territory, to gratify the ambition of some monarch, or to soothe the wounded vanity of rulers and states. In the wars that waged between 1793 and 1815 no fewer than 1,900,000 men were either killed outright or died from wounds or disease. In the campaign of 1828 the number was 120,000. In the Crimean war the losses sustained by the four countries which participated amounted to the terrible figure of 600,000. In 1859 the French and Austrian forces suffered to the extent of 62,000, while in the civil war in the United States the victims numbered 656,000. The Franco-Prussian war caused the death of 290,000 and the Russo-Turkish War meant death to 180,000 men. In order to show the fearful carnage that may be wrought in one battle, two instances in recent wars are cited. In the battle of Gravelotte, in 1870, the combined losses of the French and Germans were 44,000 men killed, and in the two chief attacks on the stronghold of Plevna, so gallantly defended by the Turks under Osman Pasha, the Russians and their allies lost 30,000 men, independent of those who died from wounds after the battles.

Relic of Lincoln's Campaign.

Deputy Probate Judge Garrard has a paperweight on his desk made of two pieces of plate glass between which is one of the tickets used in Ohio at the presidential election in 1864, when Lincoln was elected the second time. It is a Republican ticket, but the word "Republican" does not appear on it. Across the top is "Ohio Union Presidential Ticket." Underneath is a design in flags, muskets, cannon, drums and other implements of war, arranged around the motto, "A vigorous prosecution of the war and no compromise under the guns of the rebels." Following this comes the presidential ticket: "For president, Abraham Lincoln of Illinois; for vice-president, Andrew Johnson of Tennessee." The state elections in Ohio in those days were held in October, and only presidential candidates were voted for in November. On the reverse side of the ticket is a spread eagle and shield and the motto, "Rally round the flag, boys, rally once again."—Topeka Journal.

Saukey and "Ninety and Nine."

Ira D. Saukey said the other day that he first sang "The Ninety and Nine" in Edinburgh twenty-six years ago. The verses he had seen in a newspaper, and never had time to put to music. It was a case of emergency; he didn't know what to sing, but seemed inspired to attempt "The Ninety and Nine" without music. He started to play, then to sing, each note coming to him until the song was finished. The music, he added, has not been altered to this day.—New York "Times."

MRS. EMMA CAMPBELL REMOVED FROM HOME

SENT TO COUNTY FARM WITH HER CHILDREN.

Sad Case Taken in Hand by the Local Officers—Children Have Barely Kept From Starving—Two Oldest Boys May be Sent to School at Sparta.

To prevent Mrs. Emma Campbell and her nine-months-old baby and two boys from starving to death, Officer Stephen B. Kenyon has removed the unfortunate mother and children to the county farm.
Mrs. Campbell with three children barely existed in a poverty stricken home on Prospect avenue, near the corner of Wisconsin street. The two oldest children are boys, seven and eight years old, and an effort is being made to have them sent to the home for boys at Sparta.

For the want of proper food and care
Mrs. Campbell was recently taken ill, and Dr. J. E. Whiting was called to attend her. On the doctor's arrival he found that woman's surroundings were such that it would be almost impossible for her to recover under such circumstances. Mrs. Campbell objected greatly to being taken to the county farm, but Officer Kenyon insisted. When the officer entered the home misery presented itself on all sides. There was not enough in the house to keep a dog from hunger. The father is said to be dead.

Charity on the part of Con McDonald, the restaurant proprietor, has saved the family from want for several months past.
To all probability the court will send the two boys to Sparta.

PLINY NORCROSS MADE PRESIDENT

quet at the Hotel Pfister Was Held Last Night.

The programme of yesterday's session of the Northwestern Electrical association held at Milwaukee was featured with the election of officers and the reading of a large number of valuable technical papers during the day and the giving of a banquet at Hotel Pfister last evening. The report of the Nomination committee was brought in and the new set of officers was elected at a single ballot as follows:

President—Pliny Norcross, Janesville,
Wis.

First Vice President—H. W. Freund,
Vincennes, Ind.

Second Vice President—H. J. Gille,
St. Paul.

Secretary and Treasurer—Thomas R.
Mercein, Milwaukee.

Directors—W. H. Schott, Chicago;
W. P. Innes, Eagle Grove, Ia.; George
Westover, Cadillac, Mich.

The next meeting of the association will be held at Waupaca, Wis., in January, 1901.

The new president, Pliny Norcross, is a well known Wisconsin man. His home is at Janesville, and he is the owner of a large flour mill at that city as well as the president of the Janesville Electric Light company. Mr. Norcross is also known as G. A. R. man and has been district attorney of Rock county and city attorney and mayor of Janesville.

The delegates to the convention enjoyed an elaborate banquet at Hotel
Pfister last night.

The delegates were each given a dainty silver and gold souvenir spoon as mementos of the occasion.

TEST CASE WON BY WELTMER

Prolonged Trial and Milder Investigation
Results in Victory for Weltmerism.

Weltmerism has been undergoing a very rigid investigation as a result of a damage suit brought by Prof. Weltmer against parties of Nevada, Missouri, who were trying to injure his method of magnetic healing. The jury not only allowed Mr. Weltmer $750 for damages, but pronounced his method to be one of the wonders of the 19th century, predicting cures all over the country that are certainly little less than miraculous.

Prof. Eugene Dennis is a graduate of the Weltmer method of magnetic healing. His success in restoring health to the afflicted of Janesville has been wonderful, and all classes of disease seem to yield to his treatment. He is located in a fine suite of rooms in the Hayes block, where he may be consulted free of charge. Read his display ad

T. W. VAN TYLE MADE MANY BAD THREATS

WANTED TO DESTROY HIS OWN HOME BY FIRE.

Town of Turtle Farmer Placed Under Bonds of $100 to Keep the Peace—Wife Becomes Frightened and Causes His Arrest—Case Called in Court.

For threatening to destroy his town of Turtle home by fire as well as threatening injury to his wife, T. W.
Van Tyle, a well known farmer, has been placed under arrest, and is under $100 bonds to keep the peace. In the municipal court this morning the case called, and adjourned one week.

Mrs. Van Tyle alleges that her husband made the threats against her life while he was badly intoxicated. The complaint was made to District Attorney W. A. Jackson, and the arrest of the accused man followed. When Officer Wallace Cochrane drove to the Van Tyle farm to make the arrest Van Tyle protested in loud terms, and seemed very much surprised that his better half should take such steps.

When not under the influence of strong drink, Mr. Van Tyle is a law-abiding citizen and a hard working farmer. His arrest has caused considerable surprise in the neighborhood in which he resides.

MISS BOSWORTH HIGHLY HONORED

Former Janesville Woman Will Have Supervision of the Great Long Bing District in China.

Miss Sadie Bosworth, a former well known resident of Janesville, has been appointed to the position of "Missionary in Charge" of the great Long Bing district, the largest missionary district in the Chinese empire. Miss Bosworth has been a missionary and teacher in the Anglo Chinese college of Foo Chow, China, for over six years, having returned to her work there on August 20 last, after spending one year's furlough in Wisconsin. The district of which she has been appointed the head, is located about one hundred miles northwest of Foo Chow, and is one hundred and twenty-five miles long by eighty miles wide. Miss Bosworth succeeds Dr. Morley, who was obliged to leave China on account of failing health. Miss Bosworth will have general oversight of this district, will attend to the administration of the funds and will be required to make regular visits on all the important stations in this district.

This is the first instance on record in the Chinese mission work in which a woman has been intrusted with so large a district and the honor is appreciated not only by Miss Bosworth, but by her many Janesville friends as well. She will make her first tour of visitation at the time of the Chinese New Year about February 1. She will not give up her classes in the Foo Chow college but will be compelled to divide her duties between the duties of teacher and those of her position.

Therefore the 1,000 English warriors

released prisoner. There is no obliga-

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

ARE CLOSE TO LADYSMITH.

British Almost Within Sight of the Besieged Town.

SIGNS POINT TO A BATTLE.

Wounded Soldiers Said to Be Arriving at the Mool River Hospital—General Disbeliever That White Has Been Relieved by the Troops Under Buller.

London, Jan. 19.—A special dispatch from Durban, dated Wednesday, says: "Advices from Potgieter's Drift, dated yesterday (Tuesday), say that Sir Charles Warren has arrived within seventeen miles of Ladysmith, and that the British wounded are arriving at Mool river field hospital by every train from the front, indicating that there has already been severe fighting. "Neither report has yet been confirmed."

London, Jan. 19.—There have been no changes of consequence on the Transvaal chessboard in the last twenty-four hours. Gen. Buller's total force is believed to amount in the aggregate to 30,000 men, with eight field batteries, divided into three or four brigades. Gen. Warren, with about 8,000 men, is reported to be well lodged five miles back from the river at Sponkop. He has thrown a few shells at the Boers, but has received no reply, the Boers being apparently too busy intrenching and preparing to give Warren a warm time when he attempts the advance in the direction of Ladysmith.

Gen. Lyttleton's force of probably 10,000 men and a majority of the guns is at Potgieter's Drift bombarding the enemy.

Lord Dundonald's cavalry is supposed to be on a reconnaissance for the purpose of cutting the Boer lines of communication, a task of great difficulty, as it requires an advance as far as Blaauwbank.

Gen. Buller's Headquarters. Gen. Buller himself has made his headquarters in a farmhouse belonging to Martinus Pretorius, and located supposedly in the neighborhood of Spearman's farm. He issued an address to his men yesterday telling them that they were going to relieve their comrades at Ladysmith, and that there could be no turning back.

How many troops are with Gen. Buller is unknown, as a considerable portion of his column, perhaps 5,000 men, are still unaccounted for.

Every one is apparently in the dark regarding the meaning of the reported movement of 800 cavalry of Natal to Zululand.

Ladysmith Rumors Doubtful.

Gen. White is more than likely still cooped up in Ladysmith, despite the persistent rumors from Cape Town, Pietermaritzburg and Durban that he has been relieved. This is the seventy-ninth day of the siege. Gen. Gatacre, with 300 men, is now occupying Lopesburg, a slight advance from his old position. There is no change in the conditions at the Modder river camp.

Misfortune for French.

Gen. French has sustained another unfortunate loss of twenty or more members of the New South Wales patrol. Two or three were killed and wounded, and seventeen are supposed to be prisoners.

Kimberley today is undergoing the ninety-ninth day of the siege, and there is no change in the situation there.

Will Try to Drive the Boers.

Field Marshal Lord Roberts' official dispatch states that Gen. Warren hopes to be able to turn the Boer position five miles off his right front, but the Central News agency declares that the Boer position centers at Sponkop, five miles west of Trichardt's drift. It appears, therefore, that the Boer position has been extended.

The net result of this is that Gen. Buller has crossed the river and secured two points of passage, where he intends to develop as much strength as possible, attempting then to drive the Boers in a northeasterly direction. This attempt doubtless will be fiercely resisted, and until the resistance is overcome the relief of Ladysmith cannot be assured.

Probably Superior in Numbers.

The enemy probably is superior in numbers to the British and the topography of the country favors them, while the British are operating at a distance from their base and are depending for communications on roads crossing two rivers, both of which are in flood.

For this reason much anxiety is felt here. It is believed that the Boers, following their usual tactics, will fall back as the British advance, and then, when the latter are sufficiently entangled in the broken ground, will develop a strong attack on one of the British flanks, probably the left. The next few hours, accordingly, are likely to bring news of the highest importance.

British Losses to Date.

The British losses in killed, wounded and captured up to date are 7,987 officers and men.

More Guns and Men.

The war office announces that next week will be embarked seventy-two guns, 3,710 men and 2,210 horses. This is the largest consignment of artillery ever sent abroad. The war office invites 500 volunteers for a sharpshooters' battalion of yeomanry.

May Threaten the Free State.

The Morning Leader's expert predicts that Gen. Buller's force will be able to threaten both passes to the Orange Free State and the roads to Ladysmith. He declares they are in a position to flank the Boer intrenchments on the Pont and west of Potgieter's drift, and expects that White and Buller will join in a day or two without great difficulty.

Free-States Not Despairing.

A dispatch from Cape Town says: "Trustworthy and impartial information from Bloemfontein fails to corroborate the stories of Free State despair. Their losses have been successfully concealed by fraudulent reports."

THREAT TO TIE UP ALL WORK.

Resolution Introduced That Would Empower the President to Call Out Every Member of the Organization—Scale Committee Is in Session.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—The convention of the United Mine Workers' union was busy Thursday, and the delegates gave every evidence of a firm determination to get through with their work in order that they might be ready to go into joint conference with the operators next Tuesday.

There was much heated discussion over a resolution on which the resolutions committee made an adverse report and which referred to injunctions. The resolution had for its object the empowering of the president to call a general strike of the 100,000 members of the organization at any time in the future when members of the organization were arrested and thrown into jail, as was the case with John P. Reece, for alleged violation of injunctions, federal or state. And it declared positively that the strike was to be continued all over the country until such time as the imprisoned members were released.

There was an immediate motion to non-concur in the report of the committee and to adopt the resolution. Chairman Fairley, of the resolutions committee, declared that the resolution was dangerous, and that if it was adopted as presented the future of the organization would be jeopardized.

T. L. Lewis of Ohio moved that a special committee be appointed to draw up resolutions bearing on injunctions and to suggest legislation or other remedies to overcome the obnoxious use of them in the future. This motion was adopted, and President Mitchell named this committee: Delegates Kennedy of Indiana, Lewis of Ohio, Hetti of Illinois, Flynn of Alabama and Soppett of Pennsylvania.

The resolutions committee was instructed to bring in a substitute for a resolution bearing on the subject of the initiative and referendum which the convention of last year referred to the membership at large.

The general scale committee has organized with W. D. Ryan of Illinois as chairman, and W. H. Haskins of Ohio as secretary. The committee is receiving reports from the various state delegations.

Springfield, Ill., has developed a strong boom as the place for holding the next convention. Scranton, Pa., and Columbus, Ohio, are also in the race, and will give the Prairie state a close run.

Resolutions providing that hereafter members of the organization would have the right to purchase their powder in the open market instead of from the coal companies and demanding payment at the time of discharge from employment were adopted.

Operators who are to take part in the joint conference with the miners in this city next week are beginning to arrive, and it is expected that most of them will be here not later than Saturday night, although the conference will not convene until next Tuesday.

The United Mine Workers endorsed the resolutions adopted at the Detroit convention, advising all members of all organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor to withdraw from the Knights of Labor. President Mitchell cited the recent conflict between the United Mine Workers and the Knights of Labor in the southwestern strike and called attention to the fact that the Knights of Labor had sent men from Pennsylvania and Ohio to Kansas to take the places of the striking miners of the United Mine Workers.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every state in the Union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher of Liberty, W. Va., only reports what has been said around the globe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by Smith's Pharmacy, next to postoffice, Kodak agents.

Plague Thought to Be Aboard.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 19.—The steamer Monmouthshire, bound for Portland from the orient, while passing Carmanah point, on Vancouver island, Thursday signaled "Sickness aboard." It is thought the steamer has bubonic plague aboard.

Is Necessary to Germany. Berlin, Jan. 19.—The Cologne Gazette, in an editorial article headed "Unjustifiable Jubilation," points out what a disastrous thing for Germany an increase of the Franco-Russian prestige would be. The Gazette goes on to say that it cannot be denied that England is a powerful counterpoise to the Franco-Russian alliance. "If only a passive friend," says the Gazette, "she cannot be spared; or else some day we will have sad experiences."

Bright for German Naval Bill.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—The New York Journal correspondent cables: "The incident of the capture of the Bundesrath and other German ships has, to the satisfaction of the government, contributed greatly toward the probable success of the Kaiser's new naval bill. It is asserted that even the populists will rally to the support of the Kaiser."

Treasury Full of Gold.

New York, Jan. 19.—The United States treasury gold holdings, according to advices received in Wall street from Washington, now amount to $400,102,275. The government banks of but two other countries in the world approach these figures. The Bank of France has $376,000,000 and the Bank of Russia is credited with having a gold fund of $403,000,000.

Bishop Rademacher's Estate.

Fert Wayne, Ind., Jan. 19.—Insurance policies on the life of the late Bishop Rademacher of the Catholic church have been found to the amount of $15,900. They are all payable to his estate and by the terms of the will the proceeds will go into the general diocesan fund.

Springfield Car Blown Up.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 19.—For the fifth time since the street car strike began in November, a car of the Springfield Consolidated railway was blown up with dynamite last night. The explosion occurred on the North Seventh street line. No one was hurt.

Doctors Can't Cure It!

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may dose a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease; on the other hand, his condition will grow steadily worse. S. S. S. is the only cure for this terrible affliction, because it is the only remedy which goes direct to the cause of the disease and forces it from the system.

I was afflicted with Blood Poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact, I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every so-called blood remedy, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect whatever. I was disheartened, for it seemed that I would never be cured. At the advice of a friend, I then took S. S. S., and began to improve. I continued the medicine, and it cured me completely, building up my health and increasing my appetite. Although this was ten years ago, I have never yet had a sign of the disease to return.

W. R. NEWMAN, Stannion, Va.

It is like self-destruction to continue to take potash and mercury; besides totally destroying the digestion, they dry up the marrow in the bones, producing a stiffness and swelling of the joints, causing the hair to fall out, and completely wrecking the system.

GOOD VENTILATION.

SIMPLE DEVICES FOR SECURING PURE AIR WITHOUT DRAFTS.

Plans That Can Be Carried Out at Home at Small Expense—How to Turn the Air From Right to Left, Downward or Upward.

It needs no scientific man to tell us that plenty of pure air, both day and night, is absolutely essential to good health. It is a self-evident fact with all intelligent people, but still there are many who for certain reasons get along with a small supply of pure air, during the night at least. The "certain reasons" are usually connected with the matter of drafts. Many people cannot have a draft of cool air, especially night air, upon them when sleeping without suffering unfavorable consequences. As a choice of evils they prefer to get along without the needed fresh air.

It is possible, however, to avoid a current of air from an open window and still have good ventilation in one's rooms, says a writer in 'The Ladies' World,' in preface to suggestions, accompanied with illustrations, along this line. The illustrations show how the air on entering a room can be turned either to the right or left or can be turned up toward the ceiling, the air being thus diffused throughout the upper part of the room or turned, if desired, directly down to the floor.

Fig. 1 shows a device that is easily constructed. Two strips of board as long as the width of the window, ten inches wide at one end and curving to a point at the other, are covered on the curved edge with the thin board used for picture backing and fastened with round headed tacks. This affair is then put into the window as shown. It is held there by little hooks and screw eyes. Turned in the opposite direction, the current of air would of course be changed in the opposite direction.

Fig. 2 shows how a light piece of cloth can be arranged so as to turn the air upward when the lower sash is opened. It is held at the top and bottom by hooks and rings, the hooks at the top being some eight or ten inches long.

In Fig. 3 only two triangular pieces of board are needed. The roller curtain is drawn down over the edge of these pieces, being held in at the middle by passing a small rod of wood through the screw eyes. If the bottom of the curtain is inclined to blow out, a small weight can be attached to the curtain pull.

Fig. 4 indicates the plan used for diffusing the air throughout the upper part of the room. A rod of stout wire or light iron is bent into the required shape and tightly covered with cloth. Triangular side pieces of cloth are sewed to the rod, a cord being "run in" at the upper edge to hold the weight of the whole. These cords have little rings at the upper ends, as shown. The ends of the wire or iron rods fit into screw eyes and are thus held firmly, their weight being supported by the cords in the edges of the side pieces above, as suggested before. All of these devices are so simple in construction that they can readily be made at home and at an expense altogether trifling.

Southern Corn Bread.

A favorite southern dish is Virginia corn bread. It is served in a deep earthen baking dish and is dipped out with a spoon. As a breakfast dish it has no equal. Break two eggs into a bowl, add about one-half cup of flour, one cup of meal, one-half cup of milk, one spoonful of lard and butter mixed and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat thoroughly. Then add a cup or more of hot water. It should be very thin and should be poured into a deep earthenware dish to bake.

Cranberry Tarts.

Take one-half a cupful of very cold, thin, sweet cream, add to it the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, and whisk all together for ten minutes. Add sufficient flour to roll, cut to fit the pans, bake quickly, but do not brown. For the filling stew a pint of cranberries in half a pint of water until soft. Rub through a colander, add one cupful of sugar and let cook until it is all dissolved. Pour it into the tart shells and set away to get very cold.

MONETARY LEAGUE TO MEET.

Object Is to Construct the Financial Plank for Democrats.

Denver, Jan. 18.—The executive committee of the Monetary league has decided to hold a national convention at the same time and in the same city as the Democratic, Silver Republican and Populist National conventions. The object of the league is to write the financial plank of the Democratic national platform. The following national committee of the league is announced by Judge A. W. Tucker, Judge Moses Hallett, Gov. C. S. Thomas, Justice L. H. Goddard, T. M. Patterson, Judge C. I. Thompson, Senator Oscar Reuter, Thomas Tenge, George G. Merrick, Mayor H. V. Johnson, J. N. Stephens, all of Denver; Gov. W. A. Poynter of Nebraska, Gov. J. H. Hogg of Texas, W. C. Hall of Salt Lake, Frank P. Dreunam of Illinois, John C. Stallcup of Tacoma, and A. W. Rucker. The officers are Judge Rucker, president; H. V. Johnson, treasurer; and J. N. Stephens, secretary. President Rucker is in correspondence with friends of the cause in this country and England, and he believes, from the letters arriving from England, that the Boer war will be the solution of the silver question. He believes that on account of the scarcity of circulating medium, Great Britain will be obliged by the overwhelming sentiment of public opinion to reopen the mints of India to the free coinage of silver.

TROOPS WERE AT THE POLLS

Goebel Offers His Proof in the Kentucky Contest.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 19.—Goebel's attorneys introduced a number of witnesses before the gubernatorial contest boards Thursday afternoon and night to prove that there were soldiers in Louisville on election day and that incendiary articles in newspapers previous to that time had led the people to believe that blood would flow at the polls. Lieut.-Col. David W. Gray testified that his troops were in the armory all day with the exception of when they went out unarmed to luncheon and when they visited some of the voting places, under arms, in the evening after the count had been completed at every precinct except two. He said his instructions were to interfere in no way with the election, but to protect life and property and preserve the peace.

TRIES TO LOCATE SEIZED FLOUR.

Choate Seeks Foodstuffs Over Which So Much Has Been Said.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Mr. Choate is prosecuting his efforts to learn just where the provisions are that were seized off Delagoa bay on the Mashona, the Maria and the Beatrice. He has reported that the goods on the Maria are in the custom house at Durban subject to the disposition of the owners. The goods seized on the Mashona are believed to be still on board that ship at Cape Town, but owing to imperfections in the ship's papers it has not yet been possible to clear up the facts in that case.

The Beatrice is at East London, and the British government is trying to learn from its officers the status of the cargo.

It is authoritatively stated that there is no difference whatever between the governments of the United States and Great Britain as to the legal aspects of the seizures of goods in these three cases.

THE QUEER CADDICE-WORM.

Its Miniature Log Cabin at the Bottom of the Brook.

Perchance during some summer's stroll your steps may lead you by a sparkling, woodland brook. Here pause a moment, and placing your face close to the surface of a dark and quiet pool, look closely at the bottom. Among the sand and pebbles you will see a number of small bundles of sticks and little cylinders of tiny stones, moving about as though endowed with life. If you take them out, however, they are apparently dead and entirely devoid of motive power. But break them open, and you will find each one to be a little tube lined with soft and shining silk, and containing a whitish caterpillar-like larva. This, then, is the solution of the puzzle—when the grub wishes to move about, he projects the forward part of his body from the tube and crawls around, dragging his house behind him. But the moment he is disturbed or frightened, he draws back into his safe retreat, wherein he remains hidden as long as danger threatens. You will find the little tubes of various kinds, shapes and sizes. Some are cylindrical, made of sticks placed lengthwise, while others are like log houses of straw, the pieces being fastened crosswise. These miniature log cabins are often decorated with tiny snail-shell fastened to the walls, and moreover, the shells are not always empty. Quite often you may find living snails securely attached, and thus compelled to move about at the will of their landlord. Other tubes are built entirely of bits of moss and leaves. The commonest forms are those composed of little pebbles or grains of sand. These are usually very regular and smooth cylinders, in which the grains are all of nearly equal size, but among them you may frequently find some with several larger stones fastened to either side in a very curious manner. By far the prettiest houses of all are shaped like little spiral shells and are composed entirely of almost microscopic stones. Popular Science.
